4 How are Aunt Nada and Hadeel going to help?

4 Listen and read. Find the words and phrases from activity 1.

Hadeel and Aunt Nada were talking in the kitchen.

Aunt Nada Tell me, do you ever cook back home?

Hadeel When I’m at home, I sometimes help a bit. But I’m often out because I do various sports and other activities after school. So I don’t know very much about cooking. I should though.

Aunt Nada Yes, if you learn to cook, it’ll be very useful later, when you grow up.

Hadeel You’re right. I need to learn. Nidal knows much more than me! And if I don’t learn, it won’t be easy to live away from home in future.

Aunt Nada I’ll teach you some simple dishes if you like.

Hadeel Great!

Aunt Nada Let’s make lunch for our neighbours, the Masri family. Mrs Masri is sick.

Hadeel Are they the family opposite?

Aunt Nada Yes. How did you guess?

Hadeel The daughter always looks busy. She goes shopping every day, and I often think maybe her mum isn’t well.

Aunt Nada You’re right. Her father is in hospital, too, so poor young Sameera is looking after them and the four little ones, too. She’s only fourteen, like you.

Hadeel That’s very hard. How does she do everything?

Aunt Nada Well, the friends and neighbours are helping, and today it’s my turn.

Hadeel If something like that happens back home, neighbours don’t usually help as much. You seem to have a closer community here.

Aunt Nada Perhaps you’re right. If someone is in trouble here, we always feel it’s our duty to help. Now, … there are some chicken pieces in the fridge. Let’s cook them and make some salad.
1 Read. Add new words from period 1. Make any changes needed.

2 If Hadeel learns to cook now, when will this help her?
3 What does Aunt Nada offer to do?
4 How many people is Sameera looking after?
5 How old is she?
6 What does Hadeel think about Sameera's situation?
7 Who is Sameera getting help from?
8 Why are these people happy to do that?

4 Work in pairs. Listen again and practise the conversation. 🎧
1 Read the examples.

1 If someone is in trouble here, we always feel it’s our duty to help.
2 If something like that happens back home, neighbours don’t usually help as much.
3 If you learn to cook, it will be very useful later.
4 If I don’t learn, it won’t be easy to live away from home in future.
5 I will teach you some simple dishes if you like.

Look at the examples again. Tick (✓) the best way to complete the statements.

1 Examples 1 and 2 talk about something that a) is happening in the present. b) may happen at any time. We call this a Type 0 (zero) conditional.
2 Both verbs in these examples are in the present a) continuous. b) simple.
3 Examples 3–5 talk about something that a) may / may not be happening now. b) may / may not happen in the future. We call this a Type 1 conditional.
4 The if part of the sentence uses a verb in a) the present. b) the future.
5 The other part of the sentence uses a verb in a) the present. b) the future.

2 Work in pairs. Match sentence parts 1–7 and a–g to make Type 0 conditional statements.

Describe Sameera’s busy mornings.

1 If the children wake up late, a she often comes to the dining room to eat.

5 If the children’s rooms are untidy, e she usually has her breakfast in bed.
6 If she needs to buy some food, f she goes to their rooms and calls them.
7 If she has time after shopping, g she always takes them all there.

3 Work in pairs. Read out Sameera’s questions about her trip to town today. Then make her Type 1 statements.

Student A Does Mum need more medicine today?
Student B If she needs more medicine today, I’ll have to go to the doctor’s.

1 Does Mum need more medicine? > have to go to the doctor’s
2 Do we need more money? > visit the bank

Now make negative Type 1 statements.

If she doesn’t need more medicine today, I won’t have to go to the doctor’s.
1 Listen and repeat.

1 If the oil started burning, I would turn off the cooker.
2 If you used a powerful chemical cleaner, this would remove the stain.
3 If that did not work, you could use a gentle chemical cleaner.
4 You might not remove the stain completely if you did that.

Look at the examples again. Tick (✓) the best way to complete the statements.
1 Examples 1–2 are about things that a) are happening. □   b) we only imagine happening. □
   We call this a Type 2 conditional.
2 The ‘unreal’ situation is in the part of the sentence that a) has if. □  b) does not have if. □
3 The verb in the if part is in a) the past simple. □  b) the present simple. □
4 The verb in the other part is in the form a) had + infinitive. □  b) would + infinitive. □
5 Examples 3–4 show that the verbs in a Type 2 conditional a) can only be positive. □
   b) can be positive or negative. □
6 Example 4 shows that the if part a) can only come first in the sentence. □  b) can also come in second position. □

2 Work in pairs. Say what you would do if you were in these situations. Choose answers from the box.

- give first aid and call a doctor
- give him / her some of mine
- go back and look for it
- hold it under cold running water
- look up the answer on the internet
- look after him / her and look for the mother

Situations:
1 You burn your hand just a little (for example, by touching a hot pan).
   If I burned my hand just a little, I would hold it under cold running water.
2 Your friend forgets to bring a picnic lunch (for example, on a school trip).
3 You lose your purse somewhere in town.
4 A neighbour suddenly becomes sick and collapses.
5 You see a small child on a busy road.
6 Someone asks you a difficult question about Palestine.

Student A: Use the rules to make statements like this.
   If those were my children, I wouldn’t let them play with knives.

Student B: Use the rules to make answers like this.
   I agree. If those children were mine, I would put the knife away.
1 Work in pairs. Talk about things that may happen at any time.

Student A: Ask questions about these things.
What do you usually do if you …

- can’t get online to chat with your friends
- can’t get to sleep
- haven’t got time to finish the housework
- can’t understand your homework
- feel sick when you wake up in the morning

- play (football)
- help at home
- listen to music / read a story
- go and meet / visit friends

Use these ideas.

- be a (mother / father)
- have a (child / family)
- have a/an (house / apartment)
- have a (good job / fast car)

In ten years from now, I hope I’ll (have a family).

Now say what you will do if these things happen.
In ten years from now, I hope I’ll (have a family). If that happens, I’ll give my children all my free time.

3 Ask and answer questions about things that are not real. Choose from these ideas.

- become a famous (film) star
- can visit one special place anywhere in the world
- can play (football) for any team in the world
- have enough money to buy a very special present (parents)

If I became a famous film star, I would be in all the most exciting films.
1 Look at the picture and do the tasks.
1 Describe the picture. Say what is happening.
2 Guess what the people are discussing.

2 Listen to part 1. Check your answers to activity 1.

3 Read lists of ideas 1–4 and a–d. Listen to part 2 and match a–d to 1–4.
1 Spend the money on a health centre. a People here be much fitter.
2 Build a new health centre here. b People here be much healthier.
3 Develop lots of clubs. c They help to build a better, closer community.
4 Choose this project. d People can get medical help faster than now.

Listen for the most important point in each half of the sentences. Underline the sound with the strongest stress.
1 If we spent the money on a health centre, people here would be much healthier.
2 If we built a new health centre, people could get medical help faster than now.
3 If we developed lots of clubs, these would help to build a better, closer community.
4 If we choose this project, people here would be much fitter.

5 Work in groups. Act out the situation in part 2 of the listening.
1 Take the parts of the community leader, Dr Rania Yussef and Mr Tim Reece.
2 Use the ideas in activity 3 to help you speak.
3 Use sentence stress to make your important points strongly.
1 Listen and write down what you hear.

2 Work in pairs. Complete a report to City Hall.

1 The community group has decided to support one of the projects – the sports centre. Copy and complete the introductory paragraph to start your report.

• Add today’s date to the first sentence.
• Add the words in the box.

community discuss government meeting project sports centre

On (Monday), there was a (1) ______________ at our (2) ______________ hall to (3) __________ the money that we might get from the (4) ______________ to pay for a special community (5) __________. We agreed that if we won the money, we would like to use it to pay for a new (6) _________________.

2 Make three statements about the project. (Use the notes in period 10 to help you.)

If we spent the money on a new sports centre, we could ...

3 Create a topic sentence to start a paragraph that will explain your ideas.

We think that this project would do a lot for our area.
We feel that this project would be a great help to our community.
We believe that this project would be very popular with the local people.

4 Copy and complete the paragraph to continue your report.

We ... (topic sentence). First of all, ... (first statement). Secondly, ... (second statement). Finally, ... (third statement).
1 Work in groups. Decide the thing that your school needs most.

Your school may win some money for a special project and your head teacher wants the students to help choose the project.

- Together, choose a group leader.
- Decide one thing that you will support. You can choose from these ideas. Plan to explain why your choice is the best one.

- a new computer room
- a new science lab
- a new art room
- a new mini-bus
- a new sports hall
- a new library
- some bigger classrooms

- The group leader thanks everyone for coming and starts the discussion. He / She asks for ideas and chooses people to present and explain them in turn.
- The group leader asks everyone to discuss the different ideas freely.
- The group leader asks all to vote for their favourite ideas and notes the numbers of votes for each.
- After the vote, everyone again states the special points that make this the best choice of project. There should be three points or more.
- Everyone makes notes of the special points.

2 Write a report to your head teacher.

1 Write an introductory paragraph like the one you wrote in period 11.
Write today’s date and explain that there was a group meeting in room name / number. Finish the paragraph with a Type 2 conditional.

2 Write an explanatory paragraph like the one wrote in period 11.
Start with a topic sentence. Continue with your special points from activity 1.

Sameera Well, yes, at the moment.

Hadeel I don’t expect you get much free time!

Sameera No, not much! And that reminds me, it’s midday and I have to fetch the children from their summer camp and give them their lunch. It’s a pity because I’m enjoying our chat.

Hadeel Well, we don’t have to stop. I suggest we go together, and then we can carry on chatting, can’t we?

Sameera Yes, we certainly can.

Reaching out to others

1 ______________ ‘At the end of the school week, we have a choice. We can do extra work in the library or sports or, like me, we can do voluntary work. We do projects which help the local community, and we recently finished one at a school for young children. It’s a new playground which we helped to build. We set up the new play equipment, and the children love it. That feels good, and we had lots of fun, too.’

2 ______________ ‘On Saturday mornings, I volunteer at the local library. There are various jobs which you can do there. For example, you can take books to the homes of disabled people who can’t get to the library. But my favourite is my little reading group. I read stories to young children that I meet every week. They love it, and I really enjoy that. They don’t pay me, but I’m allowed to borrow books instead, and that’s very nice.’

3 ______________ ‘There’s always a big natural disaster somewhere in the world. If it isn’t an earthquake, it’s a flood or a hurricane. I can’t go and help, but there’s something else that I can do. I belong to an international organization which sends help to people who are in danger. It collects money for things that disaster victims badly need – things like food and medicine. Then we volunteers put everything into boxes ready to send. At Eid, we also sent toys for children in Africa, and that was nice. It’s good to give to people who have very little.’

1 Look at the picture and read the poem’s title. Guess the writer's meaning.

By The Book of Life the writer probably means
a) the diaries which many people write about their lives every day. □
b) the story of our travel through life from the past to the present to the future. □

2 Listen to the poem and do these activities.
1 Check your answers to activity 1.
2 Read out the lines which describe the picture.

The Book of Life
1 Life is a book in chapters three
The Past, the Present and the Yet to Be,
The Past has gone, it could not stay,
It’s in our dreams of yesterday,
5 Remembered sometimes for its sadness,
But also for its joy and gladness.
Live for the Present, live for today,
So quickly does it pass away.
Help one another along life’s path,
cheer them up and make them laugh,
For the Past it soon will be,
Live it now, it’s yours you see,
But what about the Yet to Be?
It’s locked away, … God holds the key.

Margaret Curtis

3 Listen to understand some new words. Then decide the meanings of these.

Line 2: Yet to Be
a) things that have been happening recently
b) things that are still in the future

Line 5: sadness
a) unhappy feeling
b) happy feeling

Line 12: it’s yours you see
a) it’s yours if you can find it
b) please understand that it’s yours

4 Answer these questions.
1 Where has the Past gone?
3 What will soon happen to the Present?
2 What should we do in the Present?
4 What does only God know about?

5 Listen again and read out the poem.
1 Listen and write down what you hear.

      - I don’t agree with (name / name or name).

   2. Note your main idea. Note points that support your idea.

Mrs Qadiri and Waleed were shopping at the fish section in a big supermarket.

Mrs Qadiri  How much is the tuna, please?

Assistant  It’s twenty-five pounds a kilo.

Mrs Qadiri  Twenty-five pounds? You’re joking!

Assistant  No, seriously, that’s the price. It’s the finest fish that you can buy!

Mrs Qadiri  But twenty-five pounds is more than the most expensive meat! Your prices keep going up and up!

Assistant  I’m sorry, but we’re paying more and more, so our prices to you have to rise, too.

Mrs Qadiri  So why is it happening?

Waleed  It’s because too many fish are being caught, Mum. I’m learning all this at school.

Mrs Qadiri  Tell me more.

Waleed  Well, all the adult fish are being caught. So young ones aren’t being produced. And that means fish populations everywhere have been falling for years.

Mrs Qadiri  That sounds terrible. Is anything being done about it?

Assistant  Yes, something is being done. In Europe, people are being stopped from catching too many fish now. They’re being stopped by the government, and they aren’t allowed to go out in their boats as much as they used to.

Mrs Qadiri  So does that mean there will be more fish again in future?

Assistant  We hope there will – in the end. If not, I’ll lose my job!

Mrs Qadiri  And will your prices come down?

Assistant  We certainly hope they will.

Mrs Qadiri  Well, I’m very sorry, but until then, we’ll have to go somewhere else and buy something cheaper. Come on, Waleed. Let’s go!

- Weather forecasts to give warnings of bad weather
- Powerful engines to help sail fast in the right direction
- Radio to call for help if necessary
Will the oceans live or die?

Fish and many other kinds of life, like coral, are disappearing from the oceans fast. There are sad changes everywhere. Near the coast, they are often caused by pollution. Farther out, the cause is often over-fishing. Fishing boats with huge nets catch and kill everything. We risk a terrible man-made disaster – the death of the oceans.

But could our recent action to save the whales give us hope? Two centuries ago, whales were already being caught for their oil and meat. By the 1940s, the job was being made easier by modern technology. From the 1950s to the 1980s, they were being caught everywhere and numbers were collapsing. Whole species of whales were quickly being destroyed, and they were not being protected anywhere.

Finally, the world took action. In 1985, almost every country agreed to stop catching whales. This means that whale populations are slowly rising again.

Could the same thing happen with fish and fishing? Sadly, almost certainly not. In Europe, people are required to catch smaller quantities now, but almost everywhere else they go on fishing freely – though it is getting harder. They cannot stop: too many hungry people need to eat.

Perhaps the only way to save the oceans is the one that our ancestors discovered long ago: farming. There are already many fish farms, and perhaps there will soon be many more along the world’s coasts. People say the fish do not taste as good as wild fish. However, that is still much better than losing all the fish in the world.

1 Work in pairs. Describe the activities in the present continuous passive.

It is 7:00 in the evening. People at the Ocean Fish Restaurant are hard at work. Different kinds of fish are being prepared.

2 Describe present changes at your school or in your local area. Use the present continuous passive.

A new science lab is being built at our school.

3 Look at Jim Webb’s photo of his father’s boat and read his story.

It was an exciting time for me. My dad was training me to take over the job of captain. At the same time, the government was helping fishermen to make their boats more modern and efficient. It was giving Dad money to help with our old boat, too.

The photo shows the winter when we were making big changes. We were cleaning the bottom of the boat. We were also painting the sides of the boat. At the same time, we were taking out the old engines. We were buying some new engines to put into the boat instead. We were also adding some new equipment to help look for fish.

Now write the report. Put Jim Webb’s story into the third person and into the passive where possible. Start like this.

It was an exciting time for old Jim Webb. He was ...

The World with its Countries

1 The world with its countries,
Mountains and seas,
People and creatures,
Flowers and trees,

5 The fish in the waters,
The birds in the air
Are calling to ask us
All to take care.

These are our treasures,

10 A gift from above,
We should say thank you
With a care that shows love
For the blue of the ocean,
The clearness of air,

15 The wonder of forests
And the valleys so fair.

The song of the skylark,
The warmth of the sun,
The rushing of clear streams

20 And new life begun
Are gifts we should cherish,
So join in the call
To strive to preserve them
For the future of all.

John Cotton

3 Read and match the summaries to verses 1–3. Say which words help you.

- We need to love and save for the future the wonderful things that we are given.
- All the wonderful things in the world want us to look after them carefully.
- We need to thank God for everything He has given us, and look after it with love.

One day, Lana and Lisa commented on a piece of waste ground that they always went past on their way to school.

Lana
Look at all the rubbish and broken glass. It isn’t very nice, is it?

Lisa
No, it’s horrible! They should do something about it, shouldn’t they?

Lana
Maybe someone is doing something. Look at this notice on the fence.

Lisa
That’s happening tonight, isn’t it? I’d like to go. What about you?

Lana
Yes, but we can’t go alone, can we? I’ll ask Dad to go, too.

Mr Qadiri was free that evening, so he went to the meeting with the girls.

Speaker
We’re aiming to build a garden for everyone. For example, we want to make part of it a safe play area for children.

Lana
You can imagine the trees and flowers, can’t you?

Lisa
Yes, it’ll look lovely right here in the middle of town, won’t it?

Mr Qadiri
Yes, it will. It’s a good project.

Speaker
Spring is coming, so we’re starting this Sunday. Who’d like to join us?

Lisa
But we can’t start yet, can we? It’s still early March, so it’s too cold.

Mr Qadiri
Oh, but we certainly can start. March is a busy time in the garden.

Lana
Come on, Lisa. We can try it, can’t we? Let’s have a go. Let’s say yes.

One cold, wet, grey day, Lana and Lisa were talking on their way home from school.

Lana Are you all right, Lisa? You don’t look very happy.
Lisa I don’t feel very happy, either. I’m depressed!
Lana What’s the matter?
Lisa Well, I didn’t do very well in our French test this afternoon.
Lana I didn’t, either. But listen, no one got good results, and we all did badly.
Lisa Everyone says the test was too hard. So come on! Cheer up!
Lana But there’s another thing. It’s this weather. I don’t like it.
Lisa Neither do I. But you have to try to keep smiling.
Lisa How come you’re so cheerful?
Lana Well, the weather forecast says that spring is almost here, and I love spring.
Lisa Oh, so do I! I can’t wait for sunny days and blue skies again.
Lana Neither can I. And listen, if the weather’s better on Saturday, I’d like to go and help at the community garden again. What about you?
Lisa Good idea! I enjoyed working with everyone last weekend.
Lana I did, too. I’m really happy about our new garden.
Lisa So am I. It’ll look lovely in three months from now. And do you know what? I’m suddenly in a much better mood.
Lana Good! Now you sound more like the normal Lisa!
Lisa And I’ll tell you the thing that really makes me happy.
Lana Oh? What’s that?
Lisa It’s having a friend like you – someone who can cheer me up when I’m down.

Dear All
I’m the oldest of four, and my parents give all their attention to the younger ones. They just ignore me. I’m feeling very down because of that. I love them, so I don’t say anything. I just go to my room alone. But I sometimes want to scream! Would it help if I did something dramatic? If I don’t do something soon, I’ll explode!

Dear Upset
As you’re the oldest, your parents probably think you can look after yourself. I’m sure they don’t think they’re ignoring you: they’re just very busy. I don’t think you should do anything selfish or dramatic since that would just make things worse.

Carrie (Melbourne, Australia)

Dear Upset
I really understand your feelings since I’ve got six small brothers and sisters! But please don’t ‘explode’ as that would just upset everyone. Try my way: talk to your parents. Say, ‘I know you love me, but I feel you give me less attention than the other children.’ It worked for me, so I’m sure it will for you, too. My parents understood immediately, and they changed completely.

Fuad (Manama, Bahrain)

Dear Upset
Your parents aren’t the whole cause of the problem. You’re part of it, too, because it’s very negative to hide in your room. Try to be positive instead and help look after the children. Your parents will love that, and you’ll do a lot together. Because of that, they’ll definitely stop ignoring you!

Rosa (Madrid, Spain)

Sameera The doctor’s saying that my mum can go home. And they’re asking when I can take her.

Hadeel That’s just fantastic!

Sameera But it’s just so sudden! And they’re asking how soon they can have my mum’s bed. They’re saying they need it urgently for another patient by 2:00 pm, and it’s 11:00 am now. They’re asking me to take my mum as soon as possible.

Hadeel What’s the problem?

Sameera I haven’t brought her any clothes! Can I ask a favour?

Hadeel Of course.

Sameera Could you get my mum’s clothes? They’re on her bed.

Hadeel But I was planning to fetch the children from summer camp for you.

Nidal Fine, what does she need us to do?

Hospital stories
By Jenan Rashidi

Today, I’m visiting a large Palestinian hospital to ask patients how their time there has helped them. And I want to find out how they feel about their experiences and about changes in their lives.

First, I talk to Mrs Amal Masri. She’s leaving after a successful stomach operation, and I ask whether she was nervous before she had it. ‘I was,’ she explains, ‘but then I realized that I must just trust my doctor and rely on God. Now I feel I must use my new life well.’

Next, I meet Samar and Anas Rammal. Samar’s just become a mother – with twins who were safely born today. I ask if they get worried about the hard work ahead. ‘Not really,’ she says. ‘Right now, we’re just very pleased to have two beautiful, healthy babies.’

Finally, I see young Osama Yousifi. He lost his lower legs in an accident, and I ask whether he’s managed to build a new life with this disability. ‘It was hard at first,’ he says, ‘because I used to do a lot of sport. Without legs, it seemed I’d lost all that. But,’ he continues, ‘look at the new artificial legs that they’ve given me today. With these, I’ll be faster than most other athletes. I’m really happy that I can live a normal life again!’

It’s amazing, isn’t it? There are so many ordinary people who are so brave, so strong and so full of hope and love. I’m proud to be a human being!

BEAUTIFUL NEW COMMUNITY GARDEN OPENS

At midday yesterday our new community garden was still being given a final ‘tidy up’. Then at 2:00 pm, local leader Susan May arrived to open it. It was a beautiful day, and over 200 people, young and old, were there to see the garden at its best.

Susan May spoke for a few minutes. ‘Three months ago, this was a horrible piece of waste ground,’ she said. ‘But in that short time, a very active group of volunteers have created the garden which we see today. It really looks wonderful, doesn’t it?’

‘I’m sure all of you will love coming here, and so will I. We can meet our friends here, or we can just sit and enjoy the garden. Best of all, the volunteers have created a lovely children’s area. Because of that, our little ones can play here safely. My little girl saw it last week, and now she keeps asking if the garden is ready, and she keeps asking me to bring her here!’

‘You’ll be pleased to know that the city will pay to look after the garden, and their park gardeners will do the hard work. But,’ she said, ‘this garden belongs to our community, so all of us must try to keep the place tidy and beautiful.’

She went on, ‘I think I’m speaking for everyone when I say a big “thank you” to the volunteers who have built this garden. If everyone everywhere did something like this, our world would be a much better place!’

4 Look and describe. Say what has happened in the park since March.
1 Read again and answer the questions.

1. How did the place look three months ago, and how does it look now?
2. Why is the children’s area the best part of the garden?
3. Why will the community not have to pay the gardeners?
4. What does Susan May’s little girl a) keep asking her, and b) keep asking her to do?
5. What does Susan May want everyone to do, and why?

2 Read the passage again and do these tasks.

Say what the underlined words refer to.

1. Line 6: ‘But in that short time, …
2. Line 9: …, and so will I.’
3. Line 11: Because of that, …

Now say what the underlined words and phrases mean.

1. Line 2: … Susan May arrived to open it.
2. Line 10: Best of all, the volunteers have created …

3 Complete the conversations. Use these expressions.

Come on! If you like, … Let’s say yes. Who’d like to …? You’re joking!

1 A I’m getting hungry.

5 Revision unit writing task: Telling a true story

1 Think of something that you have done in your life. Choose something
   • that was hard at the start (like the community garden project);
   • that got better or easier or more fun later;
   • that you are pleased about now.

   You can choose from these ideas if you like:
   • school work – English or another subject;
   • sport or another activity outside school;
   • a time when you were sick;
   • a problem with friends or family.

2 Note useful words and phrases to help you tell your story – to say what happened and how you felt.

3 Work in pairs. Tell each other your stories. Ask each other questions if something is not clear.

4 Tell your story in a paragraph. Start like this.
   This is what happened when ...

Unit 8

When + present simple + present simple; Types 0 and 1 conditionals

| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>When we get up, we have breakfast.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>If it is cold, we eat something hot.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>If it is warm tomorrow, we will go to the beach. (we’ll)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1 For things that happen regularly.
2 For things that may or may not happen at any time – Type 0 conditionals.
3 For things that may or may not happen in future – Type 1 conditionals.

Type 2 conditionals

| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>If it was warm today, (but it is not) we would be at the beach now. (we’d)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>If we moved to the coast, (but we will not) we would go swimming every day. (we’d)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1 For ‘unreal’ situations now. 2 For ‘unreal’ situations in the future.

Unit 9

Direct and indirect objects

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Direct object</th>
<th>Indirect object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>have just bought</td>
<td>a CD</td>
<td>for Nadia.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>am now going to give</td>
<td>the CD</td>
<td>to her.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1 Some verbs that often take two objects: bring, take, fetch, buy, get, give.
2 To + indirect object shows direction. For shows the idea of helping.
3 We often put the indirect object first. In this case, we take out for and to.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Indirect object</th>
<th>Direct object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>have just bought</td>
<td>Nadia</td>
<td>a CD.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>am now going to give</td>
<td>her</td>
<td>the CD.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Defining relative clauses

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Main clause</th>
<th>Relative clause</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Subject</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’s the old man</td>
<td>who / that arrived yesterday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That’s the red van</td>
<td>which / that came this morning.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Object</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’s the old man</td>
<td>who / that I saw yesterday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That’s the red van</td>
<td>which / that I drove this morning.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
1. Who / That (for people) and which / that (for things) join the relative clause to the main clause.
2. They can be the subject (the ‘doer’) of the relative clause – or the object. If they are the object, someone or something else is the ‘doer’.

Unit 10

The passive: present and past continuous

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Active</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Someone</td>
<td>is / was doing</td>
<td>something</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Passive</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Something</td>
<td>is / was being done.</td>
<td>by someone</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1. Form the passive from be + past participle.
2. For making the active object (something) the focus of attention – the subject.
3. If it is useful to keep the active subject (Someone), change it to by + agent. If it is not useful, you can take it out. Someone is not useful.

Unit 11

Tag questions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>For positive confirmation</th>
<th>For negative confirmation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>He’s working, isn’t he?</td>
<td>He isn’t working, is he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He was working, wasn’t he?</td>
<td>He wasn’t working, was he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He works, doesn’t he?</td>
<td>He doesn’t work, does he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He worked, didn’t he?</td>
<td>He didn’t work, did he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’s worked, hasn’t he?</td>
<td>He hasn’t worked, has he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’s been working, hasn’t he?</td>
<td>He hasn’t been working, has he?</td>

</tr>
<tr>

<td>He won’t work, will he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He’d work, wouldn’t he?</td>
<td>He wouldn’t work, would he?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He can work, can’t he?</td>
<td>He can’t work, can he?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*He’s = He is or He has  He’d = He had or He would
Similarly, with other modal verbs: could, should, must.*

1. For inviting the agreement of the listener.
2. Used to check facts: You’re 15, aren’t you?
3. Also used to invite agreement with ideas and feelings: The party wasn’t much fun, was it?
